

HEALTHCARE PROVIDER RESOURCE

Wellspring Alberta is a charitable organization with a vision to ensure no one has to face cancer alone. Founded in 2007, we offer programs and services that meet the emotional, social and restorative needs of people living with cancer, caregivers and their families. All of Wellspring's programs are evidence-informed and offered free of charge and without referral. Wellspring Alberta operates two centres in Calgary, one in Edmonton, and offers a full range of programs online and by phone. We are working to co-create local and sustainable cancer support communities in areas outside of Calgary and Edmonton. For more information, please contact outreach@wellspringalberta.ca.

Membership

- Encourage and/or assist those diagnosed and caregivers to become a member of Wellspring Alberta to access all our programs.
- Register online, or encourage interested individuals to call us toll-free at 1-866-682-3135. You can also call us with your patient.
- Membership and programs are free and require no referral.
- Your referrals are making a difference! Healthcare providers are the #1 way new members find out about Wellspring Alberta.
- Please send your patients and caregivers to visit one of our centres as they can. All are welcome to come in for a tour at our centres during business hours. No appointment is needed.
- Once they have completed their membership, they will receive a welcome email from us within a few days, and can start taking programs right away. Note: A caregiver can become a member even if the person they are caring for is not a member.

Program Calendar & Registration

- Members of Wellspring use our online program registration system to register for programs.
- Wellspring Alberta staff can give you access to view the program calendar and the ability to see what programs are available and register your patients and caregivers directly into programs.
- To express interest in gaining access and attend a brief training to get you orientated, contact outreach@wellspringalberta.ca.

Outreach

Wellspring Alberta is committed to working with rural and regional communities throughout the province to ensure co-created cancer support communities exist closer to home. Community Connector volunteers support Wellspring Alberta directly from their rural communities. To connect with the Wellspring Alberta outreach team, contact outreach@wellspringalberta.ca. Together we can ensure no one has to face cancer alone.
